3. STATEMENT OF BANNERMAN'S CONTINUOUS DISCLOSURE OBLIGATIONS

3.1 Continuous disclosure obligations

Bannerman is listed on ASX, OTC and NSX and must comply with the Corporations Act and the ASX, OTC and NSX Listing Rules.

Both the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules require Bannerman, subject to the exception described in paragraph 3.2 below, to ensure that once it becomes aware of any information concerning it that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of Bannerman's shares that is not generally available or previously been made available to the ASX (Price Sensitive Information), it must immediately advise the ASX of that information.

Bannerman will become aware of information if a Director or executive officer of Bannerman has, or ought reasonably to have, come into possession of the information in the course of the performance of their duties as a Director or executive officer of Bannerman.

A reasonable person would be taken to expect information to have a material effect on the price or value of Bannerman's shares if the information would, or would be likely to, influence persons who commonly invest in shares when deciding whether to buy, hold or sell Bannerman's shares. If information satisfies this test, then unless it is generally available or has previously been made available to ASX, it is Price Sensitive Information.

Where information is given to ASX the Company will also provide that information to the OTC and NSX disclosure channels.

3.2 Exception to disclosure obligation

ASX Listing Rule 3.1A provides that Bannerman is not required to disclose Price Sensitive Information to ASX if any of the following applies:

- (a) a reasonable person would not expect the information to be disclosed; and
- (b) the information is confidential; and
- (c) at least one of the following applies:
 - (d) it would be a breach of a law to disclose the information;
 - (e) the information concerns an incomplete proposal or negotiation;
 - (f) the information comprises matters of supposition or is insufficiently definite to warrant disclosure;
 - (g) the information is generated for the internal management purposes of Bannerman; or
 - (h) the information is a trade secret.

Each of (a), (b) and (c) above must be met for the information to be exempt from disclosure. For example, information that is not confidential does not qualify for the exceptions from disclosure. If Price Sensitive Information has been leaked, even in breach of a duty of confidentiality, it is no longer confidential and disclosure of the information to ASX will be required.

3.3 False market

The ASX Listing Rules provide that where ASX considers that there is or is likely to be a false market in Bannerman's shares and asks Bannerman to give it information to correct or prevent a false market, Bannerman must give ASX the information needed to correct or prevent the false market.

There may be a false market in Bannerman's shares in a number of circumstances including:

- (a) where Bannerman has Price Sensitive Information that has not been released to ASX because it falls under the exceptions described in paragraph 3.2 above; and
- (b) there is reasonably specific rumour or media comment in relation to Bannerman that has not been confirmed or clarified by an announcement to ASX; and
